

Joyously the Yuletide bells peel their message of happiness to all mankind. Deep resonant chimes echo a prayer for health, and prosperity to the peoples of the earth. As each mellow tone rings forth over the countryside, in every heart there is the hope that Christmas, 1947, will bring a wealth of contentment and everlasting peace to all.

Pre-Christmas Music Event, Presentation of Handel's "Messiah," Brings Large Audience

State Legislators Are College Guests

President Jones Addresses Visitors on Six-Point Education Program.

Members and members-elect of the General Assembly, who live in Northwest Missouri State Teachers College district, were guests of the college Monday, December 9. At noon the legislators, faculty members of the county committees, and administrative officers of the college were entertained at a luncheon at Residence Hall.

Members of the General Assembly attending the conference were Senator C. A. McColl of Westboro and the following representatives: Mr. Charles H. Schindler, Savannah; Dr. J. A. Gray, Watson; Mr. Lewis Wallace, St. Joseph; Mr. J. H. Miller, Carrollton; Dr. Baxter Waters, Liberty; Mr. Charles Bryant, Gallatin; Mr. Wm. Pittman, Maysville; Mr. Lester A. Vonderschmidt, Mound City; Mr. J. O. Hunt, Chillicothe; Mr. C. G. Vogt, Maryville; and Dr. G. W. Hall, Grant City.

Three of the guests—Mr. Lewis Wallace, Mr. Charles Bryant, and Mr. Wm. Pittman—formerly attended the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College. Mr. Wallace, known on the campus in the early thirties as "Steamboat," majored in agriculture and received his degree in 1931. Mr. Bryant majored in English while he was at the college and received his degree in 1927. Mr. Pittman attended the college but completed his study in another school.

Various phases of educational problems were presented and discussed at the meeting.

Dr. J. W. Jones, president of the college, spoke of the necessity of supporting policies for higher education in order to retain well-qualified teachers and to obtain new teachers with the best qualifications.

He also asked for support of the six-point program that has been outlined by the Knights of the Hickory Stick and the county superintendents.

Mr. Hugh Graham of Trenton, superintendent of Grundy county and president of the County Superintendents' Association, also spoke for better qualified teachers. Mr. Carl Miles, Gilman City, president of the Knights of the Hickory Stick, presented that organization's educational program. Mr. Emmett Barram, secretary of the Maryville school board, spoke about the supply of teachers in relation to salaries and taxation problems of local boards.

At the luncheon, speaking informally, Mr. Uel W. Lamkin, president emeritus of the college, suggested a three point program in which the county superintendent would be chosen by a county board of education; local school districts should carry a greater part of the cost of public schools; and careful consideration should be given the adequate support and service of existing higher educational institutions before appropriating state funds for new area schools.

Winter Quarter Opens Week Late

Christmas Holiday Is Not Shortened, President Has Announced.

Christmas vacation comes as was planned for the college despite the fact that shortage of coal delayed the opening of the winter term one week. The holiday begins at five o'clock on the afternoon of December 20 and closes with the assembling of students for eight o'clock classes on Monday morning, January 6, according to an announcement made last week by President J. W. Jones to allay the fears of students and faculty that the holiday would be shortened.

The first result of the coal shortage was the moving up one day of all examinations at the close of the fall term. As a result, the term closed on Tuesday afternoon rather than Wednesday afternoon before Thanksgiving. At that time it was thought that the winter term would open as scheduled, on December 5.

The strike situation was dark. Coal was short and the supply was diminishing. College administrators decided that a postponement of the opening of the term for one week was necessary and spread the news as far as possible to those expected to enroll.

The scheduled faculty meeting for December 4 was held as usual and the gravity of the situation was discussed and plans announced for meeting it. The furnace was to be converted temporarily to oil and storage tanks were to be provided. The administrative offices, the Women's Residence Hall, and the Men's (Continued on page 4)

Mr. A. H. Cooper Is Given State Honor

Director of Business and Administration to Be His Title.

Mr. A. H. Cooper, director of extension and associate professor of education at the college, has been appointed by Governor Phil M. Donnelly to the position of state director of business and administration.

Mr. Cooper was not an applicant for the position. He was called by Governor Donnelly and offered the position. He and the governor had served in the legislature together.

The appointment is subject to confirmation of the senate and a leave by the board of regents of the college. Mr. Cooper has filed with Dr. J. W. Jones, president of the college, an application for a leave of absence. Provided he is given the leave, he will assume his new duties in Jefferson City, January 1.

In his new position Mr. Cooper

will serve as a coordinator of a miscellaneous assortment of state agencies. They are the public service commission, which retains its independent identity, insurance, finance, resources and development, athletic commission, saving and loan supervision, geological survey and water resources.

Mr. Cooper holds a Master's degree from Harvard University, has been a member of the college faculty since 1921, and has served four terms as a member of the House of Representatives from Nodaway County.

Seven From College Attend Conclave Held in South During Holiday.

Monday, December 2, six members of Kappa Omicron Phi and their sponsor, Miss June Cozine, arrived from an unusual Thanksgiving vacation that was spent at Kingsville, Texas, attending the tenth National Conclave. Those who attended were Madge Miller, Gene Keown, Eloise Harryman, Mary Loyce Rockwell, Elaine Williams, and Sarah Espey. Sixty-five delegates from sixteen colleges attended the three day meeting of this home economics fraternity.

The national officers installed included Miss June Cozine, Maryville, Missouri, president; Mrs. William Arch, Yukon, Pennsylvania, vice president; Mrs. J. O. Downing, Indiana, Pennsylvania, secretary; Mrs. Dale Thompson, Athens, West Virginia, treasurer; Dr. Opal T. Rhoads, Indiana, Pennsylvania, alumnae and chapter organizer; Miss Marie Lamb, Immaculate, Pennsylvania, staff editor, and Mrs. Eileen Elliott, Santa Barbara, California, conclave manager.

Texan hospitality was shown throughout the many activities at the conclave. The delegates were officially welcomed by the president of the college. On a trip to Reynosa, Mexico, they obtained a first-hand view of the citrus industry, picking oranges and grapefruit in McAllen and inspecting a packing plant in Edinburg. The trip to Mexico was climaxed by a gentlemen's (Continued on page 4)

Four Guest Soloists Assisted

Mr. Person, Alumnus, Works With Chorus During Fall While Director Is Away.

The true Christmas spirit seems to pervade the campus last evening when the Northwest Missouri Music Guild presented Handel's "Messiah" to a large audience in the college auditorium. The orchestra and chorus of 130 voices was composed of townspeople, faculty members, and some sixty-five students of the college. The auditorium was decorated with the traditional greens.

Guest soloists who appeared with the chorus were Miss Elizabeth Pugh of Winston, West Virginia, soprano; Miss Inez Lichtlighter of Dayton, Ohio, contralto; Mr. Delbert Johnson of Kansas City, Missouri, tenor; and Mr. John MacDonald of Chicago, Illinois, bass.

The soprano, Miss Pugh, is daughter of Fenton Pugh, famous concert and oratorio artist. She now teaches voice at Salem College in Winston, West Virginia. She was a student of Frank LaForge in New York and has sung the "Messiah" in such cities as Montgomery, Alabama; Charleston, Clarksburg, and Wheeling, West Virginia.

Miss Inez Lichtlighter, contralto, is a student of Fenton Pugh, famous concert and oratorio artist. She has been in the summer choir concerts in Dayton. She has sung the "Messiah" at Springfield, Ohio, at Dayton; and also at Antioch College.

Mr. Delbert Johnson, the tenor, now director of the city-wide chorus of 350 voices in Kansas City. He is also director of music at the Linwood Presbyterian Church in that city. He came to Kansas City two years ago from Detroit where he organized and directed the famous Willow Run chorus group.

Mr. John MacDonald studied with John Dwight Semple and Edgar Nelson, and he studied opera with Dino Bigalli, and L. Kopp. He has appeared with the Chicago Opera company for several seasons and has sung the "Messiah" many times; in such cities as Cincinnati; Indianapolis, Milwaukee, Pittsburgh, and St. Louis. As the climax of last season, Mr. Johnson sang for the Cincinnati May festival and was chosen to sing the voice of Christ in the premiere performance of Bernard Rogers' "The Passion".

Director Is Experienced. Mr. Ralph Hartzell, chairman of the Department of Music at the college, directed the "Messiah" for the third time in Maryville last night. He studied the "Messiah" under Frank Van Der Stucken, conductor of the Cincinnati May Festival chorus. Dr. Van Der Stucken studied in Antwerp under the supervision of a student of Handel's in London. The Dutch artist taught the "Messiah" as Handel did, and Mr. Hartzell used a score that was marked by Dr. Van Der Stucken, under whom he sang from 1926 to 1932 in the May Festival chorus. Assistant conductors were Mr. Willard Rogers (Continued on page 4)

Miss Franken Says Tokyo Views Entice Her From Her Work

Miss Katherine Franken, a former instructor in psychology at the college, is now teaching three psychology classes and one class in American government in the Tokyo Army College for American soldiers. She says, "In my classes I have men from practically every state in the Union and one from the University of London."

She lives in a hotel one block from the college and from her window is the spacious view of the boulevard, the Imperial Palace Grounds, the Diet Building, and "those wonderful mountains." Mt. Fuji is covered with snow, but it can only be seen on clear days. The weather at this time is almost tropical in nature. She says, "I can scarcely work; the view is so beautiful and alive with people and interests."

Passes to the British Theater, grand opera, and other places of interest are given many of the American personnel. Miss Franken has visited a government session in the Diet Building in which the new Japanese Constitution was promulgated.

Recently she saw the opera "Madame Butterfly" with an all Japanese cast and orchestra. Miss Franken notes that the singing is not as good as "Metropolitan" but that the music is very good. The opera begins at 5 o'clock p. m. and a twenty minute intermission is provided during which time the audience eats supper with the customary chop-sticks. A (Continued on Page Four)

Ziegler, superintendent of schools at Columbia and former member of the college faculty, has been appointed assistant commissioner of education of Missouri according to an announcement made by Mr. Evert Keith, chairman of the new state board of education, following a board meeting at Jefferson City.

College Has Acquired Two Publications by Dr. Har

"The Rise of the Timber Barons" and "Western Flavors in the Antebellum Southwest, 1815-1861" written by Dr. John L. Har, chairman of the Social Science department of the college, have recently come to the college library.

The first is based largely on search from original sources and the story of the spoliation of government timber lands in Wisconsin during the latter part of the nineteenth century.

There has been a great demand for this study by state conservation and entomologist authorities, as well as by historians, all of whom are interested in various aspects of the subject.

"Western Flavors in the Antebellum Southwest, 1815-1861," reprinted by the University of Chicago in 1945 and it is a part of Har's doctoral dissertation of 1946 the printing of which was delayed by the war.

On this campus, Dr. Har is active not only in his academic work, also in sports. Dr. Har says that when he was young that in order to get permission from his mother to participate in sports he first had to have honor grades in the classroom. As a result he not only lettered football, basketball, and track, he graduated from high school valedictorian and from college with the highest honors. Dr. Har (Continued on Page Four)

THE COLLEGE OATH
"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Merry Christmas

KEEPING CHRISTMAS
Are you willing to forget what you have done for other people, and to remember what other people have done for you; to ignore what the world owes you, and to think what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background, and your duties in the middle distance, and your chances to do a little more than your duty in the foreground; to see that your fellow men are just as real as you are, and try to look behind their faces to their hearts, hungry for joy; to own that probably the only good reason for your existence is not what you are going to get out of life, but what you are going to give to life; to close your book of complaints against the management of the universe, and look around you for a place where you can sow a few seeds of happiness—are you willing to do these things even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas.
—Henry VanDyke.

DEANS ARE NICE PEOPLE
Armies have colonels, corporations have vice-presidents, and colleges have deans. Deans are nice people. They have telephones. They have carpets. They say, "What ho! my good fellow."
Deans are hand shakers in reception lines. Deans are delegates at conventions. Deans make speeches. Deans read the erudite magazines. Deans mediate and when alone, sing softly to themselves, "Curricular, curricula, curriculum."
Deans are as necessary to a college as chromium is to a car. Without deans and chromium you have only junk piles.
Some deans dean from eight to five, others dean intermittently, and still others conduct from porch campaigns; but all deans dean enthusiastically. If there is doubt in your mind, ask a dean whether or not he is an important fellow. One seldom hears of a dean giving up his job to become a baseball umpire or a front man at a carnival. Occasionally one forgets his dignity and becomes college president but such a one is immediately laid out of the party, disbarred, and placed on the back list.
A visit to a dean's office is always a big event in a student's life. To receive a "come" card is emotionally up-setting as to get an "alert" in combat zone. Statistics show that few students pass away during the waiting period and few faint during the interviews, but the strain is terrific and the experience devastating.
It is unfortunate that long tradition governs the attitudes toward dean-student relationships because the dean is a kindly soul, is pure of heart and is hungry for human contacts. He gets lonely. What can be done about it is a question because every student is fed propaganda about deans from an early age. The rule in child-culture is that when the boogiemani trick-wears out, the parents are to put in on the "dean" scare. The last advice given to a dad to a son on the day college opens is, "Look out for the dean."
Heaven will bless you if you are kind to deans.
—From "The Saturday Letters"

IMPROVING READING ABILITY
...A College regulation requires that all students who need to improve their reading ability must take the course in Laboratory Reading. The course is planned for twenty meetings with two meetings each week.
The success of the work depends, in part, on the attitude of the student toward the work and his desire to want to improve his ability to read. With the great demands made upon the reader today both in and out of college, it is imperative that he reads at his maximum level of attainment if he is able to meet in a satisfactory manner and with an economical expenditure of his responsibilities to society where reading is involved....

From: The President
To: The Students
When the true spirit of Christmas is abroad in our land, then we shall have peace on earth and good will toward men. It is my wish that the Spirit of Christmas shall be reflected in the daily life of each student in this college. As you come in contact with your friends they too will reflect this Spirit and the world will be nearer a merry Christmas for all.
A happy holiday season is my wish for each of you.
Christmas, 1946. J. W. Jones

Calendar
"Lest We Forget"
It is timely that we should pay tribute to that great American, Woodrow Wilson, not only because his birthday was in December, but also because we are again in the midst of a period when we are desperately in need of some kind of world government which will insure a lasting peace.
Wilson was a man with a noble vision who worked persistently for what he believed was the answer to the problem of an international system which would bring peace and justice to every nation, regardless of its size or strength. He was born December 28, 1856. In the year 1879, he was graduated from Princeton, and in 1883 he began postgraduate study at Johns Hopkins. As a student and as an educator he showed profound interest in political science—he talked, wrote, and taught it.
Two years after he was elected president, war broke out in Europe. Wilson was determined to remain aloof, and for three years the United States avoided war. Never, since Abraham Lincoln's time, had such a peace-loving man had to face such stupendous problems.
The most notable of his speeches on world peace was that in which he stated his famous "Fourteen Points." They were to be the basis for the League of Nations which he thought would bring about an understanding between countries and end wars and misunderstandings. He worked with the Paris Peace conference, personally, endeavoring to make his Fourteen Points a part of the treaty, and finally obtained the approval of the other nations. He returned to the United States where he met bitter opposition in Washington. He had faith in the judgment of the masses, once they had the facts, so he toured the country where he urged acceptance of the treaty. While he was away from Washington he became ill and had to return home. The United States then did not accept the League of Nations, and there has been another war. It was a costly war, both in lives and in money.
Our leaders are again trying to find some sort of agreement by which a peaceful attitude will exist between countries. The ape has no cultural heritage from which to draw. If we are superior to the ape we will heed what we have learned through past experiences. Was all of Wilson's work in vain? It has seemed as if it was, but need we let such an international disaster as a third World War take place? Not if we become acquainted with the facts and act accordingly. We have the Paris Conference, and we know what to avoid; so let us not make the same mistakes that we did after the last war.

No fee will be charged for dropping a subject, but the student's permanent record card will show why any subject is dropped after the first week, and if the reason is failure to carry the work such failure shall be taken into account in reckoning honor points. Unless a subject is properly dropped after the first week the final grade will be "U".
3. No subject can be dropped during the last four weeks of the session and a new subject cannot be added to a program after five weeks of a session have elapsed.
Withdrawal From College—Students who find it necessary to withdraw from school before the close of a session must file drop slips at the Registrar's office. Failure to follow this procedure will result in the recording of failing grades in each course for which the student is registered.

Suitcase Students
Suitcase Susies and Suitcase Sammies are found on every campus. I wonder if these Susies and Sammies realize how much they miss when they pack that bag and go home every week-end. Sometimes they are not content even to stay a full school week and pack that bag in the middle of the week and head for an overnight at home.
If there is a football game on Friday that Susie would like to see but still wants to go home worse, she satisfies herself by thinking that the home-team will be defeated—so why waste the evening? Sammy will probably decide to stay for the game, but there he goes the second the game is ended.
There is always the dance after the game, and again Susie and Sammie miss the fun by going home. If there is not a game and dance, there is other fun that Susie and Sammie miss.
If they could only forget that suitcase for one week-end, they might be convinced that it would be fun to spend their week-ends on campus. And they might improve the standing in class, too! Too bad they have to be dubbed Suitcase Students!

Health Department
Because of a new regulation of the College, physical examination is required of each student. This examination is given by the College Health Department. The grades of twenty-eight students are being held because they have not yet reported for physical examination. These people may report to the Gymnasium Health Office any afternoon except Sunday, between the hours of 1:00 and 4:00 p. m.
Students who are enrolled in the winter quarter and were not here for the fall quarter are required to undergo this same examination. They may report to the Health Office without appointment between the hours of 1:00 and 4:00 p. m. during the week.
Several weeks ago tentative plans for the Immunization Clinic at Horace Mann were announced. The immunization service is also available to the College students. The first clinic is to be held, Thursday, December 12, beginning at 1:00 p. m. The second and probably last clinic will be held Thursday, January 9, 1947, beginning at 1:00 p. m. Any College students interested in these clinics please see Mrs. Wormsley.
Under the new program of recreation being offered this quarter by the physical education department more students are going to be able to use the swimming pool. No student is to be permitted to use the pool without a Sports Permit. These are being issued by the Health Department now. You may secure your Sports Permit by seeing Mrs. Wormsley at the Horace Mann Health Office from 9:00 to 12:00 a. m. and from 1:00 to 4:00 p. m. at the Gymnasium Health Office. This is a protection not only to others but to yourself.

What Fun!
I think that I should have just loads and loads of fun teaching a college class. People are so very funny in all their different little ways that I am constantly laughing inwardly at anyone I look at. It is not a scornful laugh nor a laugh of amusement, but rather a laugh of delight. Delight because people are what they are, because they are all different, because they are interesting, because—oh, because of a lot of things.
It would be such fun to be in a position of a teacher, to have a number of people in front of me to look at and laugh at, to get to know and like, just to sit back and delight in my wonderful position for observation.

Dear Santa:

We the members of the Student Senate have been good little boys and girls. We hope you will bring us what we want.

Jay Roberts, bless his heart, would like a girl with a strong back to push the "Cracker-box." He wouldn't mind having a new car itself, but he hates to ask for too much.

Bill Vest could use a heavy ball bat to assist him as Proxy of the Phi Sigs.

Joan Miller admits that what would please her especially is another Sadie Hawkins week. Members of the Senate think several of the coeds might be asking for the same thing.

Clem Shively wants one thing for Christmas—an apartment.

"A toupee (oh, just any color)," sighs "Georgia" Wilson.

"Tex" (Doris) Polk expresses a longing for a secretary. Why? To make lesson plans for practice teaching.

Janet Drennan requests a stand-in to attend all meetings for her.

Bob Davis, as President of the Student Body, wants a course in diplomacy.

Sh! Don't let it back to Mary Lee, but "Tex" (Gene) Polk wants an unabridged cookbook. (It is considered highly likely that he expects to leave it lying around the house and when Mary Lee finds it to say, "Where under the sun did that come from?")

Dean Hoshor wants all his calculus worked out for him.

Roberta Finke, now that the coal strike is off, wants a round-trip ticket to Omaha.

Martha Lewis wants a visit from Susie.

For Mercede Myers, dear Santa, see what you can do about getting the College administration to work out a system of alternating an academic week with an extra-curricular week. Wouldn't that be just tops for Mercede and a few others?

Wilmer Martin wants to receive a personal letter to the effect that Henry Ford is putting out new Model A's.

There are heaps and heaps of other thing the members of the Senate want, but they will mention just one other thing: A happy happy Christmas for everybody.

Your little friends,
THE STUDENT SENATORS

Biology Students Study Insect Community Life
For a long time ants have attracted the attention of naturalists because of their social organization. Their success in the world is evident in their extraordinary numbers and wide distribution. Everywhere man has traveled, ants have been found; in fact, ants are so plentiful that they outnumber any other species of insects.
The social life of ants proves them to be of a high order. They have family institutions, and all work together for the common good of the community. In some respects they seem to have achieved a harmony and a stability in community living that man has not as yet achieved. Each ant commits itself unflinchingly to community welfare, whereas man sometimes evades his share of community responsibility. Incidentally, the female is the leader of ant societies.
The living quarters of ants are sometimes quite elaborate, and they have many systems of tunnels and have many galleries and chambers which are used as nurseries and storehouses.
The subterranean life which ants live has definite advantages. They are able to live deep enough in the ground so that they are free from daily and seasonal changes in temperature. This life in the ground also furnishes protection from birds and other enemies, and thus, instead of living only a few months as many of the insects do, they are able to have a life expectancy of a decade or so.
Many other animals besides ants live in ant galleries; ants have domesticated animals much as man has. For instance, the cornroot aphides, which live in the ant colony, feed upon juices of tender roots, and they excrete, as a by-product, drops of sweet fluid, known as honeydew, which the ants feed upon with relish. The aphides in turn are protected by the ants from their enemies and act as "ant cows."
Some species of ants, as a result of over specialization, produce only the soldier. They thus become able warriors and keep the working force of their colony intact by raiding colonies of workers and taking captive their pupae. When these pupae emerge as workers they set about caring for and working for their captors just as they would if they had not been captured.
As part of a course in biology the subject of ants is given careful attention.

College Weddings

Smith-Butts

Wedding bells have rung again for more of our former students. This time, the honored ones are Miss Maxine Smith of Blocton, Iowa, and Mr. Carden Randolph Butts of St. Joseph. The ceremony took place at the country home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Smith, Saturday, December 7, at 2 o'clock.

The Rev. O. E. Lockhart, Pastor of the Broadway Methodist church, Plattsburg, an uncle of the groom, assisted by the Rev. R. C. Yaden, Pastor of the Church of Christ of Maryville, solemnized the double wedding ceremony. Roger Butts, brother of the groom played several numbers preceding the ceremony, and also accompanied Mrs. Frank Fink of Blocton, an aunt of the bride who sang.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony. Centering the linen-covered table was a four-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom. Presiding at the table were Miss Gayle Smith, sister of the bride, Miss Kathleen Faubion, and Miss Phyllis Butts, sister of the groom and a junior at the College. Miss Smith and Miss Faubion are former students of the College.

The bride and groom completed the required work here last quarter for the degree of Bachelor of Science. Prior to that time, Miss Smith taught in the public schools of Iowa, and Mr. Butts served more than four years in the Army; two of which were spent overseas.

AAUW Has Old English Dinner

Program Is Presented by Members of Maryville Dickens Club.

Members of the Maryville branch of the American Association of University Women had gathered at the Maryville country club for their annual Christmas party at 7:00 o'clock, Monday evening, Dec. 9. As they were almost ready to go down to the dining room for an Old English Christmas dinner, a loud knock resounded at the door.

"We are friends of Mr. Pickwick," said a voice when Miss Chloe Millikan, president of the branch, answered the knock. "We are in great distress. On our way up to London, our coach broke down out here on the hill. We saw your light and have come to ask if we may come in and sit with you until the coach is repaired."

It was thus that the members of the Dickens Fellowship announced themselves when they came in a body to accept the invitation that had been extended to them by the A. A. U. W. to attend the dinner. Dressed in authentic costumes and wearing the coiffures of the period of Dickens, they represented Dickens characters: Mrs. A. F. Harvey was Agnes Copperfield, and Mrs. C. Cameron was Dora Copperfield, the two women beloved of David Copperfield; Mrs. J. B. Cummins, Sr., was Mrs. Micawber and brought "the twins" with her; Mrs. M. E. Ford was Lady Dedlock from "Bleak House"; Miss Mattie M. Dykes was the Widow Bardell from "Pickwick Papers"; Miss Mattie M. Dykes was Mrs. Charles Dickens herself.

Mrs. Vilas Martin, who would have gone as Betsy Trotwood, and Mrs. J. A. Dreps, who would have gone as Edith Dombey, were two Dickensians who were unable to attend.

In true English style, the friends of Mr. Pickwick were announced one by one as they entered and soon were escorted down to places of honor for the dinner. Food was typically English in keeping with the period—kerosene lamps, old glass compotes and casters, folded napkins in the water glasses.

Mrs. Forrest Gilliam was chairman of the hostess committee that made plans for the dinner. Serving with her were Mrs. Frederick Schneider, Mrs. J. A. Dreps, Miss Mary Schreder, Espey, Miss Mary Keith, Miss Floyd Alexander, and Miss Janet Dickey.

After dinner the group assembled around the fireplace upstairs, and the Dickensians, with the Widow Bardell as mistress of ceremonies, furnished the program, which fitted into the situation of the stranded travelers taken into the circle and grateful for the hospitality shown them. Mrs. M. E. Ford told of the purpose and work of the Dickens Fellowship, an international organization made up of lovers of Dickens.

Mrs. Colbert read "Christmas at Dingley Dell" from the "Pickwick Papers," a humorous bit of Dickens that brought many chuckles from the listeners. Mrs. Harvey, with Mrs. Cameron at an old-fashioned reed organ, led the group in Christmas carols to close the program.

Members of the Association of Childhood Education and Miss Chloe E. Millikan, sponsor of the Association held their Christmas formal dinner party at the Country Club Monday evening, December 16.

Students of Miss Culver Achieve Results in Art

The Junior College of St. Joseph, under the leadership of its dean, Miss Nelle Blum, and of the head of its Department of Art, Miss Ina Culver, who has studied under Miss Olive S. DeLuce, head of the Art department of the College at Maryville, is making an outstanding contribution to art in St. Joseph. Each year the Junior College purchases a painting done by a member of the graduating class. The picture is framed and hung in the office of the dean or in some other conspicuous place in the building.

Another activity fostered by Miss Culver is an annual exhibit of the work of her students under the sponsorship of the St. Joseph Art League. The exhibit is held in the rooms of the League in the Municipal Building in St. Joseph, is opened by a tea, and is continued throughout a week or more. Perhaps to her students, however, the most interesting occurrence recently was that in an exhibit of the work of professional artists held by this same St. Joseph Art League a number of Miss Culver's students had entries accepted and exhibited.

Miss Culver's own work is noteworthy in both oil and watercolor. Her subjects range from scenes in and about the city of St. Joseph to portraits of much merit. She has studied at the college at Greeley, as well as with Miss DeLuce. Her activities recently included the contribution of a number of flower studies to the Y. W. C. A. Bazaar of St. Joseph.

Tower Staff Works on Assignments Given Out

Work on the 1947 Tower is proceeding according to schedule. Manley Thomson, editor of the TOWER, has handed out most of the writing assignments, and already many of the pictures for the College yearbook have been taken.

The deadline for all group and individual pictures is January 11. New students and others who have not made an appointment for their pictures will be permitted to do so when they return from the Christmas vacation January 6.

All information on organizations is expected to be in before December 20. The camera contest, open to all students on the campus, closes January 10 at 4:00 p. m.

New students and others who had not done so before were permitted to sign up for their Towers Thursday, December 12.

Work is also under way on the traditional Tower dance. Reports from the publicity department state that it plans to make the dance "the event of the year."

Residence Hall Girls Entertain Faculty Women

Refreshments of wafers, nuts, candy and coffee were served and the table had a centerpiece of chrysanthemums. Those who attended were the faculty women, wives of faculty members, and the girls of Residence Hall.

National bi-annual congress of the Alpha Phi Omega will be held at the Hotel Continental in Kansas City, December 28 and 29. Leslie Parker, secretary, and Charles Green will be the representatives from the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College chapter.

Alumni Teach at Lafayette School

Principal of Junior-Senior High School Speaks Well of Them.

The College may well be proud of the number of its former students and graduates now on the faculty of Lafayette Junior-Senior High School in St. Joseph. Mr. D. H. Murphy, the principal of the school, speaks highly of the character of the service given by former students of the College and praise their continuous growth in ability to give a high type of professional service through graduate study.

Students and faculty of the College will be interested in the roster of those now serving on the staff of the Lafayette Junior-Senior High School:

Evann R. Agenstein, recently discharged from the Army, who, before his term of service was on the Lafayette staff, has returned to continue the teaching of mathematics. His wife, the former Miss Ethel Graves, is also a graduate of the College. Mr. Agenstein expects to receive his Master's degree from the University of Kansas City soon. Mrs. Kathryn L. Allen, formerly Miss Lentz, teaches music in the Lafayette Junior High School.

Mildred Bringham teaches English and junior business. She is at present studying toward her Master's degree at the University of Kansas.

Eva M. Brown teaches English. She is working toward her Master's degree at the University of Kansas City.

Mrs. Ruby Butler, the former Miss Goodwin, also teaches English. She has done graduate work at the University of Iowa and at the University of Kansas. Her daughter is a student in Lafayette High School.

Charles C. Carr, in charge of industrial arts, has done graduate work at the University of Missouri and at the State College, Pittsburgh, Kansas. His wife, a graduate of the College, is the former Miss Mildred Schaney. Before teaching at Lafayette, Mr. Carr was in charge of the industrial arts department of Bliss Junior High School for a number of years.

Betty L. Duncan, in physical education, served nearly three years in the WAVES before joining the staff of Lafayette.

Mrs. Golda Dunlap, the former Miss Redman, teaches social science and mathematics. Her daughter is in the elementary school.

Mary Virginia Garner teaches vocational home economics. She has done graduate work at Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa, and at the University of Missouri. While in college she was a member of Kappa Omicron Phi, and in the summer of 1943 was in Civil Service in Kansas City.

JUST Two Gym Shoes Will Admit to Participation.

Under the guidance of Mr. Don Peterson, Recreational Sports Director, a varied and interesting recreational sports program has been inaugurated at the College. Every Tuesday and Thursday evening from 7:00 until 9:00 and each Saturday afternoon from 2:00 until 4:30 the gymnasium, swimming pool, and locker room facilities will be open for the use of all students.

At present the activities available are volleyball, swimming, basketball, badminton, ping pong, gym games, wrestling, boxing and weight lifting. Each of these sports provides an outlet for excess energy, furnishes an opportunity to develop skills so useful and necessary in later life, promotes social relations because it does bring people together, and in general gives to all who participate a feeling of mental relaxation that is such an indispensable need to all citizens of this swiftly revolving and increasingly technological world.

The only requirement for participation is a pair of gym shoes, since street shoes make the floor and make traction more difficult. Each is asked to bring a friend with him when he comes to play; one will find it interesting and enjoyable, and well worth the time.

In conjunction with play night an intramural program has been started by Mr. Peterson. Sixteen basketball teams, one of the largest number to enter an intramural tournament at the College, have already begun play. Immediately after the holidays additional schedules for badminton, volleyball, (both men and mixed teams), and water polo will be drawn up. A swimming meet and a ping pong tournament will also be held.

Three Have Berths on All-Conference Teams

Stanley Totoralis, veteran Bearcat end, was selected as an end on the all-conference first team. The honor was a repeat for the dependable lineman, since Totoralis also received first-team distinction at end in 1945, his last year before leaving for service in the Navy. The choice was almost unanimous, indicating opponent coaches' respect for the hustling Bearcat. The range end played superb ball throughout the year, turning in several 60 minute performances, and climaxed his third year of wearing the green and white, with an outstanding game against Warrensburg.

John Lanham, end, and Paul Chiles, halfback, were chosen for second team berths. Lanham, narrowly missed the first team, losing to Roscoe Branch of undefeated Cape Girardeau. Honorable mention went to Jackie Vernon Wiedmaier, and Harold Johnson, and guards Tony Rizzo and Errol Myers.

WAA Resumes Practice

Many of the women athletes of the College felt as if they have been lost without the usual W. A. A. practices, and they were therefore very pleased when the group met Thursday, December 12. The game of the evening was basketball. Plans for a tournament were discussed. No teams will be organized until after the Christmas vacation.

At the last business meeting, Wanda Ashford was elected sports manager for the basketball season. Miss Ashford replaces Vee Oyerly, a volleyball manager.

All girls who are interested in sports, especially basketball, are urged to attend all W. A. A. practices.

Miss Cozine, after a Mexican dinner at the "Sam's Place," after extensive purchasing of souvenirs in the market square they visited King's ranch, seeing the famous Santa Gertrudis cattle and sold Venture, sire of Derby winner Assault. They were also allowed to enter the ranch home. Another high point of the trip was a bar-be-que at Humble Camp.

The chapter efficiency award was won by Our Lady of the Lake College of San Antonio. Kappa Omicron Phi concluded the convalesce with a banquet at the Sasa Ricardo hotel in Kingsville.

In Tokyo, Miss Franken says they are allowed to go anywhere and transportation is free for all. One just steps in trains or busses and goes where he wishes.

Ravens Win and Bearcats Lose

Many Fouls Characterize First Home Basketball Game, December 10.

Ragged play by both teams marked the opening game of the 1946-47 basketball season at Maryville Tuesday evening, December 10, as the St. Benedict Ravens defeated the Bearcats 37-30. Inability by the Bearcats to score from the floor decided the game. Maryville made good on sixteen free throws, but made just seven field goals to twelve for the Ravens.

The game started slowly, and the Bearcats failed to score a field goal in the first sixteen minutes. A free throw by Bruce Mitchell opened the scoring for the Maryville five, who rallied to take a 11-9 lead at the eighteen minute mark, but Rose of St. Benedict's scored just before the half to send the teams to their dressing room all tied.

In the second half, Center George Wendell, Raven captain, led a rally that pulled St. Benedict's slowly but surely away from the Bearcats. Wendell scored fourteen points during the evening to take game honors. Gene Cross of Maryville hit three baskets and dropped four free throws through the hoops for at total of ten points to lead the Bearcats.

The floor play of Vincent Meyer, Bearcat center, was a bright spot on an otherwise spotty performance. Each team had twenty foul charged against them. Cross and V. Meyer fouled out for Maryville while Wendell of St. Benedict's incurred five fouls.

The box score:

Random Shots

Lettermen returning for Coach Ryland Milner's cage squad are Gene Cross, Paul Wilson, Vincent Meyer, Errol Myers, Norbert Meyer, Howard Glavin, Ken Lepley, Darrell Foster, George Andrews, Gene French, and Bruce Mitchell.

Paul (Georgia) Wilson was acting captain for the St. Benedict's game. He is a fine floor man and a good man for set shots, and his experience under Coach Milner gives him the needed assets for leadership.

Industrial Arts Groups Complete Many Projects

Mr. Donald N. Valk, chairman of the Industrial Arts department, states that all courses in this department are open to girls as well as boys. These courses include work in wood, metal, and drafting rooms. Many girls have taken drafting work and have secured positions in industry. Other girls have majored or minored in Industrial Arts work.

At present there are twelve girls enrolled in Industrial Arts 105, under the supervision of Mr. Howard Ringold. In the class (handwork and crafts) the students and their completed projects are as follows:

In addition to these various projects the students carry a related course of study in hand tools and a study of woods and their uses and characteristics.

Pre-Christmas Music Event

of the College Department of Music, and Mr. William Person, a member of the Music Guild, and a graduate of the College. Miss Judith Thom of the College Department of Music was the accompanist.

George Frederick Handel composed the "Messiah" in a period of twenty-four days, during which time he seemingly wrote with divine inspiration. A friend of Handel's brought choice bits of scripture on prophecy, life, death, and resurrection of the Messiah which material inspired Handel to write what is considered by many to be the greatest of oratorios. The "Messiah" was first performed in April, 1742, in Dublin, Ireland, where Handel had gone to conduct personally a series of operas and orchestral works. It was immediately successful, and, beginning in March, 1743, Handel performed it every year in London, and always for the benefit of some charitable organization.

The oratorio is divided into three parts: the prophecy and birth of the Saviour, the passion and crucifixion, and a statement of the fundamental doctrine of Christianity—the hope for life eternal.

The tradition of standing during the stirring Hallelujah chorus, observed last night by the audience, began at the first London performance when the king and the audience arose in recognition of its beauty and majesty.

Dr. J. G. Strong attended a meeting of the Kansas City section of the American Chemical Society held at the University of Kansas City, Thursday, December 12. Dr. Albert L. Elder, director of Research at The Corn Products Refining Company, Argon, Illinois, spoke on the subject, "Chemicals from Agricultural Products."

At schools located in cities or towns not served by Trans World Airline, it is suggested that students contact the Trans World Airline office at Kansas City, Missouri, Grand 2266, 937 Riata Building, Kansas City, 6, Missouri.

Mr. Surrey Speaks to Club on Jewish Problem

The International Relations Club met Monday, November 18, in the Bearcats' Den. There were twenty-three members, sponsors, and guests present. The guests were Kiki Ioannou, Anais Vernazo, Dr. Joseph A. Dreps, George Rocos, Paul Turley, and William Grant.

Mr. Surrey led the discussion on the assimilation of the Jews in which many interesting facts were presented. He opened by explaining that the problem of assimilation is due to three things—faulty education and unsound beliefs of the people, and characteristics of the Jews as a group. In the course of the discussion it was found that the Jews tend to stress academic success and that the majority of the Eastern Universities and Colleges of the United States limit the number of Jewish students.

New I. R. C. members are Myrtle Lee Burns and Betty Neill.

College Has Acquired Two Publications by Dr. Harr

still holds the collegiate broadjump record for the state of Wisconsin which he set in 1934; he was also all-conference halfback, serving as captain of the team.

In a recent interview Dr. Harr said that he believes that his greatest avocation is in the area of camping. Having had twelve years of experience as an assistant director of a boys' camp, he is keenly interested in all outdoor activities.

Without hesitation Dr. Harr states that his greatest hobby is in his two children, a son, Pat, of twenty-eight months, and a daughter, Barbara, now five months.

Formerly of the state of Wisconsin, Dr. Harr graduated from the State Teachers College at LaCrosse and later received his doctor's degree from the University of Chicago. He recently was elected to the State Board of Control of the State Council of Social Science.

Bearcats Trounce Nebraskans 52-38

Held to a two-point lead at the end of the first half, the Maryville State Teachers College Bearcats opened up with a barrage of field goals in the second half Friday night to trounce the York College Panthers of Nebraska by a 52 to 38 score.

The Panthers, playing their first game of the season, put up stiff resistance, but the basket-shooting antics of Maryville's Gene Cross and Vincent Meyer proved too much for them. Cross dropped in eight fielders and two gift shots for 18 points and high-point honors for the evening while the elongated Meyer was collecting 10 points and displaying a fast brand of floor work.

York Ties Score
The Nebraska team's towering six-foot-eight center, Abe Dick, was held to two field goals by glue-like defense work of the several Bearcats assigned to him at different times during the game. Two brothers, Jimmie and Wayne Kaeding, paced the York attack. Jimmie accounted for 13 points and Wayne bucketed five fielders for 10 points.

The Bearcats ran up seven points before the Panthers finally swished in their first field goal. With Maryville holding a 11 to 7 lead early in the first half the York knut put on a scoring spree that knotted the score at 11-11 in less than 90 seconds.

The game was nip and tuck until half time with Vincent Meyer and Cross' swishing in field goals to overcome a York two-point lead just as the half ended. The score was 19 to 17 at the half.

Cross, V. Meyer and Howard Glavin went on a scoring rampage as the second half began, increasing the Maryville lead on four fielders and a charity toss while the Panthers were garnering one two-point. York's Dick, Wayne Kaeding and Auchard flipped in three straight field goals to make the score 29 to 25 against them which was their last threat.

Revive Scoring Drive

The Bearcats' scoring drive revived, sparked by Cross, V. Meyer and Sammy Ingels; Coach Ryland Milner's team maintained a comfortable lead.

Coach Milner, as he did in Tuesday night's game, with St. Benedict's substituted freely in a search for a clicking combination. Ingels, a Maryville product, showed lots of promise in last night's fracas.

The box score:

Maryville (52)		York (38)
Cross, G. 12	Auchard, G. 2	Wilson, G. 1	Ingels, G. 2
Wilson, G. 1	J. Kaeding, G. 5	V. Meyer, G. 10	Dick, G. 2
Glavin, G. 4	W. Kaeding, G. 5	Buthers, G. 0	Campbell, G. 1
Mitchell, G. 0	Schneider, G. 1	Andrews, G. 0	Huberman, G. 0

Language Teacher Speaks Before English Council

Dr. Blanche Dow, chairman of the Foreign Language department, went to Atlantic City, New Jersey, to participate in a program at a meeting of the National Council of Teachers of English, November 29. She took part in the program sponsored by the Language and Communication division.

The chairman of this department was Dr. Thomas C. Pollock of the department of English at New York University. Dr. Pollock is an intimate friend of Dr. Julian Aldrich, who was head of the social science studies at the College until 1944.

The program consisted of the discussion of three papers. The first, written by Dr. Florence B. Bowden, presented the problems of language teaching in elementary schools. The second was a report of the problems of language teaching in high school by Dr. Robert W. Rounds of the Oneonta State Teachers College, Oneonta, New York. The third paper told of the problems of language teaching in college and was written by Dr. Allen Trover Kitchin of the Teachers College in Columbia University.

Dr. Dow was a member of a panel which discussed the papers. "Naturally," she said, "my job was to give my point of view on the one on college problems."

From Atlantic City, Dr. Dow traveled to New Brunswick, New Jersey, to visit Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Farth, Dr. Farth, who is Dean of the College of Education at Rutgers University, was formerly a member of the College faculty.

Quadrangle were to be kept warm during the week; other buildings and rooms were to be kept just warm enough to keep pipes from freezing.

The faculty had a busy week while the students were off campus. The Faculty Council held meetings and among other matters worked on catalog material. Faculty committees met and set themselves tasks. County committees visited schools in various parts of Northwest Missouri. Everybody had something to do.

"Are you enjoying your vacation?" was the greeting often extended to a faculty member as he hurried downtown between college duties to do a bit of shopping.

"Vacation?" the faculty member would ask. "What's that?" And he would smile as he would add, "Oh, we are getting many things done this week when we are not meeting classes."

Now, everybody is back at work. The coal miners have gone back to work; so have the students (though they had not been out on strike); and the faculty people are still working.

Registration for the winter term took place Monday, December 9. Classes were met the next day. Nobody remembers that the term opened one week late, and nobody will do much thinking about it except when classes meet a few extra times to make up for the time lost.
